FIGHT FOR MORE GAS TO START

EXPERT'S REPORT IS DITCHED

"Hold Company to Contract" Recommendation of Committee

COUNCIL GETS RESOLUTION

Gas Pressure Slightly Higher Today Due to Pipe Storage

Lima and surrounding towns, Wednesday, had little gas, although more before noon than Tuesday. This was attributed to storage in the transmission lines over night. Householders were able to cook their breakfasts with ease, but early in the forenoon the pressure started to decline, the stage in the gas company's office showing an ounce pressure near noon and only five pounds in the main transmission line.

E. R. Curtin, president of the Lima Natural Gas Co., and legal counsel for the company, will go to Columbus Wednesday afternoon to appeal to the utilities commission to compel the Medina Gas & Fuel Co. to give Lima and surrounding towns gas.

REPORT IS THROWN ASIDE

The gas investigating committee for Lima was a thing of history Wednesday, as it completed its affairs Tuesday night by running true to the form it had previously shown and rejected or rather ignored and ditched the report of E. R. Curtin, legal counsel for the company, who had been hired at an expense of $200 to be a taxpayer and $300 to be the champion of commerce. It was the sense of the committee by a 6 to 2 vote that the Lima Natural Gas Co. as sold to its present contract, under which the public has been assured that it will be impossible to get gas.

The report of the committee along with the report submitted by Brownell will go to council, but there can be no doubt as to the outcome there. "Three councilmen, all aligned against the gas company, and one who is not, two of whom have led the attack since the light started, are on record as commissionmen as being opposed to anything except carrying out the present contract. Other councilmen, enough to carry out this policy, are of the opinion it is believed.

A. J. Thomas, representing the Chamber of Commerce, voted against the committee report, declaring that an injustice was being done the people of Lima by practically letting the gas company go its way. Councilman E. J. Jones voted against the report on the ground that it was not complete. JAMES MINORITY REPORT

Thomas argued that a fair return must be given any company if service is to be expected. He favored a rate contract with the gas company, opposing the report of the committee. "We have a contract to furnish gas," he said, "and we are doing everything possible to carry it out. We don't make more money than we sell gas and we want to get as much as possible.

"It would be fair for us to lay down our own terms. We have a big investment in this gas. We are doing a big business. We must distribute gas to keep going," he added.

GALLANT ROBBERS THANK VICTIM

"Good-Night and Much Obligated"—Get Away With $50

WAPAKONETA — This city, thus far this winter having escaped a visitation of holdup artists, experienced a revival of the "midnight pasture" when three men, strangers, appeared at the George Freyer restaurant, E. Main-st., forced "Dapper" Kiefer, the night clerk into the kitchen at the point of a wicked looking gun, and proceeded to rifle the place, shortly after midnight Tuesday.

The visitors were not "nasty" about plugging their nefarious vocation, but joked between themselves while engaged in going over the place, two of the men doing the rifling while another compelled Kiefer to remain in the kitchen.

After they had removed about $50 from the cash register and helped themselves to such articles from the stock on hand as suited their fancy, the men departed leisurely and quietly.

"All right, let him out," one of the trio said out to Kiefer's captor. "We've got all we want here. Say good-night and much obligated to the clerk for us."

Anthony H. G. Fokker and his wife, snapped on arrival in America

WHEN Christopher Columbus crossed the Atlantic his small like progress was considered fast enough. But what do you suppose he would have said had anyone suggested crossing that great ocean in one day.

That is what is being talked of now. Anthony H. G. Fokker, who built the pesky little planes which caused our airmen and those of other nations aligned against Germany so much trouble, has just landed in America and says it is a matter of a short time until one-day trips across the Atlantic will be common.

Fokker says he is a Hollander; that he tried to sell his airplane inventions to both America and England in 1912 but was turned down, and that he found a customer in Germany. He predicts great things for air travel in the future.

JOYCE MAY KNOW HIS FATE TODAY

Cleveland Murder Case Goes to Jury This Afternoon

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — Verdict was expected before trial of John W. Joyce, for the slaying of Harold Kray, political figure. The defense closed its case with the accused on the stand.

Joyce climaxed his testimony with a dramatic flourish.

"Before God, I swear I did not shoot Harold Kray," he cried, with upraised hand.

The state did not recall Judge McGinnis, chief justice of the municipal court, to the stand. McGinnis had testified that he was not on the scene of the shooting when Kray was shot down.

Two witnesses testified that a "big man" shot Kray and a third testified and identified McGinnis as the man who walked from the scene just after Kray was shot.

Walter D. Meals, for the defense, in summing up the case Wednesday adhered to his early contention that Joyce was leaning drunk and helpless against a telephone pole when Kray was shot.

The case is expected to go to the jury shortly after noon and a verdict was predicted two or three hours later after the court charged the jury.

Will Tell of Irish Conditions at Washington Probe

HEARINGS OPEN AT CAPITAL

Investigation Being Made by Committee of 100

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Hearings on conditions in Ireland with prominent officials of that country among those to appear were opened here Wednesday before a commission for the committee of 100 investigating conditions in Ireland. Witnesses in sufficient number to occupy the commission's time for three days, already have been granted permission to testify, according to William MacDonald, secretary, and the British embassy has been requested to be represented by counsel or any official spokesman. Similar action was taken with respect to Eamon de Valera, president of the "Irish Republic."

The commission has been advised that numerous witnesses will make the trip from Ireland to tell of conditions. Some already had sailed. Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork, will sail Nov. 24. Most of the others, however, were expected to start the ocean voyage at an earlier date.

The commission has stated that it hoped only to "establish the facts in the case of Ireland" and to lay these facts before the world. It will attempt to develop the statements of both sides to the controversy, and grant a hearing to all who are familiar with conditions in Ireland or who lately have made personal studies of the situation.

Members of the commission, elected as a "high court" by the committee of 100, include Raymond Robins, Chicago; Joseph W. Folk, St. Louis; Frederick C. Howe, Washington; Alexander P. Moore, Pittsburgh; Jane Addams, Chicago; James H. Maurer, President Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

OMAHA, Neb. — (By United Press) — Bandits who Saturday night robbed the mail car on Burlington passenger train near here, obtained a "haul" of more than $3,000,000, L. J. Patterson, superintendent of mails here estimated Wednesday.

One mail pouch which was found with its side slit, had been looted of $800,000 in bonds. It was believed Marie Phillips, 20, alleged to have confessed that he threw the mail pouches from the train to accomplices waiting in a high powered car, maintained Wednesday he did not know the true names of the men he is alleged to have worked with.

The men suggested the plot to him, officials said Phillips confessed. Postoffice officials from a dozen western cities are here working on the case.

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Further efforts are being made here and thruout the state Wednesday to locate a man who described himself as Rev. Father Joseph Hogan, police say, swindled a local bank out of $1,600.

On Nov. 5, according to authorities, the man opened accounts, depositing $160 in each of four banks here. Later he added $240 to each account and on Saturday augmented his savings by depositing drafts on a Cincinnati bank for $1,995.

On Monday he sought to withdraw $2,000 from each of the banks, but succeeded in doing so at only one institution, the others refusing to credit his account with the amount of the draft until it was verified.

"Rev. Hogan" then disappeared and has not been seen since.

Heavy Damage for Cook's Tire Store and Gast Barber Shop

When a blaze was discovered in the Kell-apts. 124 E. Spring-st., shortly before four o'clock Wednesday morning, members of four families hurriedly donned a few clothes and waded outside into deep snow drifts while firemen fought a blaze that looked for awhile like it would consume the entire building.

FLAMES IN BASEMENT

An early morning pedestrian noticed flames shooting from basement windows and summoned the fire department. When members of the department arrived they found the entire basement a mass of flames.

Three lines of hose were turned on the blaze and after half an hour's fighting, it was under control. From the basement, flames spread to four store and office rooms on the first floor which were slightly damaged, mostly by water and smoke. M. P. Cook's tire distributing establishment and Ed Gast's barber shop probably suffered the most. Wednesday, Mr. Cook estimated the damage to his stock of tires at $1,600. The office of the National Cash Register Co. was slightly damaged. It was the grocery store of F. J. Myers.

DAMAGE NOT ESTIMATED

NEW SHORT RAIL LINE BY PENNSYLVANIA PLANNED

Purchase of D. T. & I. Persistent Rumored by Insiders

LIMA ON PROPOSED ROUTE

Fastest Line From River to Lake — Deal Not Verified

Lima may have another thru line from the river to the lake with the possibility of a faster passenger and freight schedule than now furnished by either the Baltimore & Ohio and the New York Central lines.

Verification of the deal cannot be secured in either New York or Detroit, but it is persistently rumored in railroad circles that the Pennsylvania has brought the Detroit, Toledo & Ironville. At first blush, this seems unimportant except as a coal road from the southern and West Virginia fields to the lake port and automobile center of the world.

The deal as outlined by a local traffic man Wednesday night changed the entire transportation of the present Pennsylvania system in western Ohio. According to this official, the Pennsylvania has long wanted to get into Detroit, and some time ago purchased terminals and is now routing passenger trains in from Toledo over the Pere Marquette.

"This new deal will not affect Toledo," he said, "but it will give the Pennsylvania a routing from Cincinnati to Detroit as follows: Cincinnati to Xenia on the Pen. (Jandia, thence to Springfield, over the D. T. & I. to Lima cutting out Napoleon, making a direct shot from Lima thru Tecumseh to Detroit. It will make the Pennsylvania the direct recipient of L. & N. business from New Orleans and the South, and give it also a direct coal road over the branch from Springfield to Napoleon.

FRIDAY LAST DAY FOR ACTION

Committees Told Commissioners Will Not Take State Aid

CHEAP CONSTRUCTION PLAN

Macadam to Be Used on Highways, it is Reported

That Allen-co stands to lose $275,000 federal-state aid for good roads was evidenced Wednesday by what members of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs term a very unsatisfactory meeting with the Commissioners of the county, Messrs. James MacKenzie, A. J. Gray and Walter Craig.

These club committees were appointed by their respective organizations to interview the commissioners with a view to quick action to such an offer made by the State of Ohio to Allen-co of more than a quarter of a million dollars for permanent roads in the county, which would create a fund sufficient to bring the total up to a million dollars.

Ben Thomas, chairman of the Rotary club with Robert Plate George Metheany and Wm. H. Howell, called on the commissioners Wednesday morning, and after Chairman John Hartline of the Kiwanis club also visited the board with A. C. C. Jacob, Walter Jackson, John Williams and Dr. Neville as members of the committee.

FINISH HOSTILITY

The committee report that they found hostility to the plan of the county taking advantage of the offer made by the state. The new County Commissioner, A. J. Gray, is quoted by members of the committee as having opposed the plan, Gray stating that he and Craig had been elected on the basis of their taking against roads of expensive construction in the county. Commissioner MacKenzie is quoted as being very much in favor of the best possible kind of roads.

MacKenzie, during his term of office, has been consistently for best construction in county highways. It is stated that Gray, on behalf of himself and Craig, declared for water bound macadam, the cheaper kind of construction.

As the matter now stands, if Allen-co is to secure the $275,000 federal-state aid offered, the demand must be made by Friday and the amount matched as required by the State Highway Department. If this is not done, Lima chances to have the state put up one-fourth the cost of 35 miles of paved road and maintain them at state cost afterwards, will go glimmering, the committee reported after their conference with the commissioners.

BATTLERS FAVOR BEST

President George Bayly of the Chamber of Commerce stated Wednesday afternoon that he believed each and every member of the board of commissioners desires to take such action in the matter of good roads as the people of Allen-co desire them to take. He believes that if those opposed to paved roads will take the trouble to investigate, they will arrive at the conclusion that paving will be the cheapest in the long run.

ORGANS SEEN AT WORK BY X-RAY

Discovery Permits Study of the Human Heart Action

BERKELEY, Cal. — The inner workings of the human body are revealed by a new instrument, termed the "fluoroscopic unit," the invention of Frank Rieber, electrical engineer and son of Professor C. H. Rieber, of the University of California. The instrument, a development of the Roentgen ray principle, is declared to be an important scientific invention and trains have been proven it successful. Rieber leaves this month for New York to explain his findings and give a demonstration of the instrument before an Eastern scientific society.

"Homo-vision" is the accomplishment of the instrument. The patient is strapped to a table with an observation screen at the back. When the instrument is operated it gives out a pulse light which throws an image of the human frame on the screen. Variations of the power enable the observer to watch the actions of the various organs. The heart actions can be studied easily; the inner workings of everything but the human soul are laid bare. At his demonstration in the East Rieber will explain his system for applying the unit as an amplification of the Bertillon identification system, by means of organ and skeleton photography, which investigation has shown to be equally accurate with finger print photography.

Rieber's instrument is so small that it can be carried in a briefcase and may be used in a non-heating circuit and be ready for instant use.

MODERN SOCIETY EVEN SHOCKED BY EXPOSURES OF PRIVATE LIVES

By MARGERY REE.

NEW YORK.—Every now and then the passion to peer into and disclose the secrets of the private lives of public characters results in the publishing of a "diary" or "memoirs."

The things that are nobody's business become thereby everybody's business.

The petty faults of a great man or woman are exposed before the multitude.

Dead and living both are at the mercy of the ill-advised man or woman of letters whose inventive faculties are so poverty-stricken, whose wit is so underdone and whose lack of humanity is so striking that friend and foe are lampooned equally without respect for their persons or positions.

Consider the squirming victim plumed down by the pen whereby the world may take its fill of ill-natured inspection. His foibles and follies are exposed to view. He is a nine-days' wonder, and while the author and exploiter, thru lack of merit, will be soon forgotten, his victim can never forget the shame and misery.

No redress is possible to the dead, but to the living there is the doubtful solace of libel proceedings.

The latest lawsuit of this nature, arising from a literary lampoon, is the action taken by Maurice Verne, of Paris, against Guillot de Saix, whose last novel, "Marius Manfonty," according to deposition, makes odious use of Verne's name, as well as those of Verne's friends and servants, and incidents of his private life.

"A man's private life is nobody's business," complains Verne, "unless he poses as a leader or an example. The musician, the poet and the artist should be judged by their works and not by their private lives. And if their works interest a novelist sufficiently to inspire him with a desire to immortalize them in a book, the allusion should be veiled and not direct."

This announcement comes directly after the discussion of the now notorious diary of Mrs. Margot Asquith, wife of England's former Premier. Her flying criticism of high officials and merciless exposure of friends have brought her severe condemnation. She herself was the "Woman with the Serpents' Tongue" lampooned by William Watson, once poet laureate of England.

The venom of Margot Asquith has been immortalized in this vitriolic poem, but that rebuke in verse did not stay her hand from penning the diary wherein statements, their wives, families and affairs are so mercilessly treated. That this is now widely read and causing great comment cannot be denied, but such "literature" cannot live beyond the notoriety of the moment.

No lawsuit, however, has been filed against Mrs. Asquith.

Addison, who, with Richard Steele, wrote many editions of "The Spectator" in the early eighteenth century, bitterly inveighed against those who write to wound. Most miserable of all wretches is he, according to that dauntless scribe, who uses his talent to hurt his fellows.

Sometimes great authors of fiction have lapsed, intentionally or otherwise, into characterization which has been believed to be personal. Dickens, in "Bleak House," creates Horace Skimpole, generally believed at the time the book was published to be the prototype of Horace Walpole. But, altho Dickens drew pen pictures of the men and women he found about him, and evoked names out of the city directories, making different combinations out of them, most of his inventive was used to bring about reforms, and was therefore forgivable.

But think of the experience that fell to an artist of our own day and of this city! Sitting with his wife in a theatre one evening he heard a young actress, in her role, mention his own name, an odd one, too, saying distinctly unpleasant things about that name. Willy Pogany, the well-known Bohemian artist, who was mentioned, has filed suit against actress and producer of the play.

Pogany claims his wife and he are estranged over the affair; that she declares her husband must indeed be a dreadful man if his character is common talk about the theatres. Mrs. Pogany has fled his home, the artist laments.

Libelous wit may be said to be the refuge of small minds. But there is another form of personal exposure that causes no less misery. This is the publishing of experiences shared with another long after those relations have ended. The man who will "kiss and tell" is not usually admired, and finds himself socially ostracized.

But great men claim great privileges, and perhaps Gabrielle d'Annunzio, poet and conqueror of Fiume, finds for himself excuses to explain publishing the details of his romance with Eleanora Duse, famous tragedienne.

The exploits of the warrior-poet have won him world fame, but he fails to win admiration by baring the heart of a woman who loved him. His one-time innamorata claims to be completely broken-hearted over her desertion by the poet-conqueror of Fiume.

"It is because he is a poet," she says. "Beauty moves him like fire and water. And I am growing old." "Age of woman, to grow old and love!"

But what greater degradation to have one's love-story published for all the prying, derisive world to read, to jibe at and to pity—hardest of all for a proud woman to bear.

"D'Annunzio Rules; Duse in Poverty," reads a recent headline. And now we hear the incomparable Eleanora has returned to the stage to gain another fortune. This, she hopes, will wipe out the one spot on the man who has bared her carcases to a callous public. Even his enemies may now laugh at the woman deserted and dead of heart.

The woman of whom Watson wrote: "She is not old, she is not young. The woman with the serpent's tongue, The haggard cheek, the hungering eye, The poisoned words that wildly fly. The famished face the fevered hand. Who slights the worthless in the land. Sneers at the just, contemns the brave, And darkness goodness in the grave."—that woman must give place to the poet-warrior of Italy with his misguided pen. But Duse asks no damages.

RAID COAL CARS AFTER NIGHT

High Prices and Short Supply Impel Wapakoneta to Act

According to reports received from Wapakoneta, the seat of government of Auglaize-co, the people of that city are not standing on ceremony in the matter of securing coal as needed fuel, but are going out and getting it—after nightfall.

Woe to a stray carload of coal that is sidetracked within the confines of the city to the south with Indian name, or to cars of fuel in the makeup of freight trains that stop there on the B. and O. or the T. and O. C. between nightfall and day-break.

Rumbling wagons and carts and even touring cars, are backed up to cars loaded with the precious fuel and the owners help themselves, weighing the coal and keeping careful record thereof, as against a summons that may be made in the future to pay for what they have taken without order or permission.

This sort of move on the part of Wapakoneta is said to be due to the fact that dealers over there have been unable to secure fuel in sufficient quantities to meet the demand and that the high prices demanded cannot be met by many persons who are desperately in need of fuel.

Nightly scenes of coal hauling in Wapakoneta are said to recall similar activities two or three years ago, when fuel was unobtainable at any price and the conditions were worse than at this time.

NOVEMBER ELECTION COST MOUNTS UP TO $5,000 IN LIMA ALONE

November's presidential election cost approximately $5,000 in Lima according to a statement Wednesday by A. J. Morris, election board clerk.

The total cost in the city's 58 precincts amounted to $4,884.00, Morris said. Of that amount $960 went for 40 registrars in 20 additional precincts.

"Extra supplies," Morris said, "cost $300. The 20 new voting booths incurred an expenditure of $1,000. Extra tables and poll books were installed in the booths at a cost of $600."

The board, he said, spent $2,784.00 in salaries for clerks and registrars in the booths.

HARDING MAY GO TO MEXICO

Considers Invitation to Stop on Way From Panama

ASKED BY GENERAL OBREGON

President Elect Leaves Texas Today for New Orleans

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. — (By United Press) — Plans for stopping off at Vera Cruz or some other Mexican port on the way back from Panama were considered by President-elect Harding Wednesday, as the result of an invitation extended by the Mexican government and its president-elect, General Alvaro Obregon.

Senator Harding indicated he would like to visit Mexico if steamship movements could be arranged. The steamer on which he returns from Panama, does not touch at Mexican ports regularly and a special stop would have to be arranged. There was no intimation as to whether Harding would be able to accept the invitation.

INVITATION DECLINED

Prominent Texans and Mexicans have felt it would promote amicable relations. General Obregon recently visited a number of points in the United States and sent word to Harding he hoped the American president-elect would return the visit. There is some doubt, however, as to how the proposed visit would be viewed in official circles in Washington and Senator Harding is desirous of giving no grounds for offense to President Wilson in such matters. He declined to visit Venezuela and has not accepted an invitation to go to the city of Panama.

HARDING LEAVES TODAY

The Mexican invitation was extended by Elias L. Torrey, special envoy of the Mexican government and President-Elect Obregon.

Senator Fall, New Mexico, accompanied him when the call on Harding was made. Senator Harding planned to leave here about 10 o'clock Wednesday for New Orleans, where he catches his steamer Thursday. His last day in Brownsville was spent playing golf and receiving a visit from Governor Hobby of Texas.

PEPPY MEET HELD BY LIONS

Surprises Sprung by Members—Visitors Give Talks

The Lion club made merry at their luncheon Wednesday noon in carrying out a program set down by the entertainment committee. Surprises were promised and Chairman Harmon and his committee delivered several. It was the most enjoyable meeting yet held by the Lions.

The silent booster of the day was the Scoles Printing Co., which donated $5 worth of printing, which was won by Will Harmon.

Several new members were present, two of whom C. D. Steele and V. M. Milliken were called upon for talks. Remarks were also heard from a visitor, D. D. Jones of the D. Jones Co. and former secretary of the Delaware, O. Kiwanis club. H. H. Hedges was chosen as the chairman of the meeting to be held next Wednesday noon at the Elks Club.

SNOW AND SLUSH BOOST SHOE MAN'S BUSINESS

Spish! Spish!

For those who do not understand, it's an imitation of Lima's cross streets when the first winter thaw was at its zenith on Wednesday.

To merchants handling rubber overshoes, goloshes and the like—it was music to their ears.

For it meant increased sales in that special line of footwear.

"The demand was big," one dealer said, "and we experienced our biggest day's business in overshoes since last winter."

MATTRESS SHORTAGE AT LIMA RESCUE HOME

With the approach of cold weather the Rescue Home has been well filled. There are not sufficient mattresses on hand now to supply all who have had to seek shelter there, but the best of the situation is being made. For the last few nights chairs and even the floor have had to be resorted to because of the shortage of mattresses.

POOR OLD MAN

He is an old man out of a job. His children have married and left the Father and Mother alone in the old home. All he has saved is a lot of receipts. Having nothing else to do he amuses himself figuring the one item of rent paid and is amazed at the total. But it isn't very amusing, for the landlord still owns the property and now the tenants must find a cheaper house; home will never be the same again. Drab, isn't it?

Suppose, when he was younger and earning good wages he had deposited $25.00 each month, say for twenty-five years, in a place like The Allen County Savings and Loan Company at five per cent compounded semi-annually. His savings would have amounted to $7,500 and the interest would bring the total to $14,835.40.

Nice little sum for the old man to have, but he didn't save. His intentions were good but he kept thinking next year would be easier. And some who read this will do the same as the old man and go broke, while many others will prepare now for the evening time of life and have something more than an umbrella for a rainy day.

CITY TO FIGHT AGAINST ARTIFICIAL GAS RATE INCREASE

Whether or not Lima consumers of artificial gas will pay the increased rate proposed by the Lima Gas Light Co. will be fought out before the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus Thursday.

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt and City Solicitor H. E. Garling will represent the city at the hearings.

The Gas Light Co. nearly a month ago placed in effect a new rate of $1.90 per thousand for artificial gas service here, with a 35 cent service charge added.

The case was appealed to the state utilities commission, which rules the increase excessive, the rate will return to its old status and the gas company will abide by the decision and give a refund to consumers amounting to the difference between the old and new rates.

MOBILIZATION ORDER FOR SNOW SHOVEL "BRIGADE"

Lima went to work with a "kink in its back" Wednesday morning. The opening of the snow-shoveling season was blamed.

Snow shovels were in big demand and those who were so unfortunate as not to be able to borrow or from the next door neighbor were forced to wade thru the snow to the nearest store and purchase such an implement.

WATER PIPE GIVEN AWFUL JOLT BY H. C.

In these days of high cost of living it may be well to turn aside a moment and delve into the H. C. of water pipe.

City Auditor Rupert Wednesday offered a few figures to jolt the tax paying public.

Rupert received a bill for $2,532.28 for 39 tons of four-inch cast iron water pipe, purchased by the city some time ago.

The pipe was delivered to the city at the rate of $88.65 a ton.

"The same material," Rupert said, "three years ago cost us $29 a ton."

The increase amounted to nearly 350 per cent, Rupert pointed out.

WELL, THE NERVE OF SOME PEOPLES RABBITS!

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt came thru Wednesday with the private rabbit story of the season.

Hilmar arose bright and early Wednesday—without any thoughts of going rabbit hunting.

Before the chief executive had been up an hour he had bagged a bunny.

But we'll let the mayor tell about it.

"I opened the cellar door," he said, "and to my surprise found a rabbit nibbling at my winter supply of cabbage."

"How did you effect the capture?" the mayor was asked.

"Just closed the door," he replied.

SNOW PLOWS DO GOOD WORK

City Street Force Tackled Snow Covered Walks at 3 A. M.

In spite of the unusual midwinter snowstorm which fell over the city Tuesday night, 'Am's service department was commended Wednesday for efficiency in clearing the streets and sidewalks of snow.

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt lauded the work of Street Superintendent C. P. Zartman and his corps of workmen.

Altho difficulty was experienced in procuring horses to draw snowplows, the city force managed to clean the walks in the thickly populated districts.

Four city horses, Mayor Burkhardt said, were all the means Lima had to clean its 110 miles of sidewalks.

"People do not appreciate the situation," the mayor said. "In the face of a city ordinance which requires property owners to clean their walks within four hours after every snowfall, the city forces worked practically all of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning."

"The plows were sent out to clear the way for school children, and early workers who otherwise would have been forced to wade thru the deep snow."

Service Director McClain made a trip over the city Wednesday morning in an auto and found that the snow plow had done its work well.

"Altho the coming of the snow storm found the department practically unprepared," McClain said, "Zartman had his force organized and the job well under way by 3 a. m."

NIGHT SCHOOL IS GROWING

Hundred Students Added to List in One Evening

More than 100 additional persons desirous of an opportunity to broaden their education, enrolled in night school in one night at Central and South H. Eighteen classes have been formally organized at Central and eight at South.

Other classes are to be started soon, as requests have been made for additional subjects, including computer and oxy-acetylene welding. Enrollment in several classes has been heavier than was expected, and school officials found it necessary to employ a few additional instructors.

Announcement is made that persons may enroll this week at the office of Superintendent J. E. Collins, or at either of the night schools Wednesday from 7 o'clock until noon. E. L. Heusch, of the State Board of Education, visited all classes and finding the enrollment double what he had expected, immediately reported to Superintendent Collins that the state and federal appropriation would be increased to cover all vocational classes so far organized under the plan now in effect, the state and federal aid meets 80 per cent of the cost of instructors. With the increased appropriation, it will be possible to divide the larger classes and employ additional instructors.

This is the first year classes have been organized at South H. It is the plan to develop this educational center to meet all demands there of 12 or more.

A class of 25 has been organized in shop science. Students enrolling came from practically all industries in Lima. A class in Spanish has been organized at South H. under Miss Mary Conrath, who studied Spanish last summer in Havana, Cuba. It is expected that a class in millinery will be organized at South H. next Wednesday night.

R. D. Chamberlin is in charge of a class in machine shop work at the Gramm-Bernstein Co. plant. Students wishing to benefit by this course may enroll there Wednesday night. Those wishing to study oxy-acetylene welding should report to J. W. Beall at the Ohio Steel Foundry, while those wishing computer should report either to L. A. Lirsen at the Lima Locomotive plant or at Central H.

Computer classes will be conducted at the Locomotive plant offices.

USES COLLEGE SWIMMING POOL FOR HIS BATH TUB

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. — The student body of Mount Holyoke is excited, horribly excited. Yes, it's a man.

The man, identity unknown, has had the temerity to perform his daily ablutions in the college swimming pool. Patrolman Arthur Goetz despite all the artifices of the law, has been unable to grab him.

Boy Scouts in full force fared forth fearlessly to fetch in the malefactor, but did not get him.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

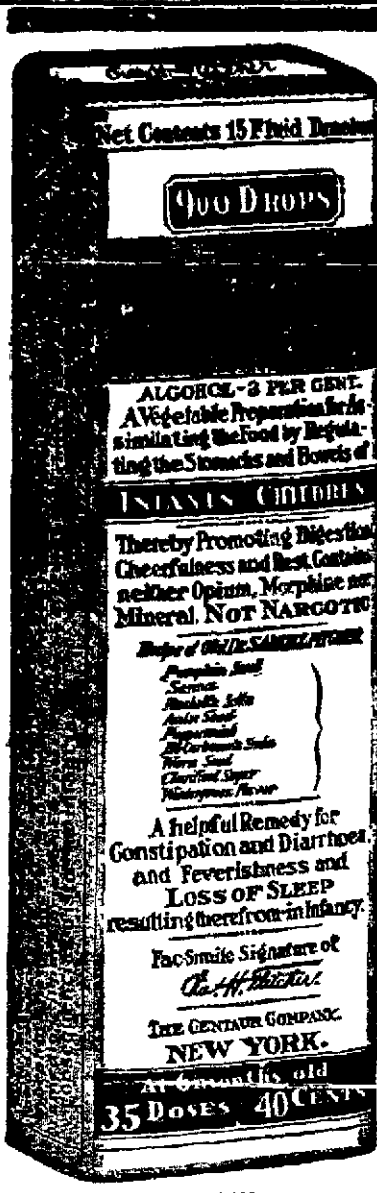

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

MEN IN FIERY PIT 20 HOURS, SAVED

Workers Rescued from Burning
Mine in Kentucky

FIVE DEAD, ONE MISSING

Coal Diggers Trapped As Blaze
Starts At Entrance

EARLINGTON, Ky. — (By Associated Press.) — Ten miners were rescued Wednesday from the burning Arnold coal mine near here. Bodies of five others were recovered. One other person, trapped in the mine, was still missing.

Rescue effected by tunneling around the fire which had shut off the single entrance of the mine came twenty hours after the flame broke out.

Three white miners among the sixteen entombed are among the dead, all of the rescued being negroes, also the one missing man. The dead:

Hugh Mack Perkins, 25, white; Jack Bond, 47, white; Roy Carnes, 21, white; George Andrews, 42, negro; Alexander James, 34, negro.

All except Carnes are survived by widows.

Ernest Francis, a 17-year-old negro trapped in the mine, is missing, and hope for his rescue alive is doubtful.

RESCUE CAR RUSHED

PITTSBURGH — (By Associated Press.) — The mine rescue section of the Pittsburgh station of the Bureau of Mines, when informed of the fire in the mine at Earlington, Ky., immediately ordered a mine rescue car at Reno, Ky., to proceed to the scene of the disaster and give all possible aid in rescuing the entombed men. The car which is manned by a full crew and equipped with standard apparatus, will be hurried to Earlington as fast as the railroads can move it.

EARLINGTON, Ky. — Mine rescue teams were working desperately at an early hour Wednesday morning in an attempt to save the lives of 16 miners trapped in the burning Arnold coal mine near here. The men were trapped three miles back in the mine when the fire broke out Tuesday afternoon and cut off their escape from the entrance.

After all other attempts at rescue had failed, a tunnel was dug around the burning entry and a start made for the miners. The rescue party, after forging into the mine for a good distance, however, were forced to come out because of the dangerousness of the smoke and gas. Later Wednesday morning another rescue party was organized, and armed with gas masks, proposed to go to the end of the mine in an attempt to find the men who are trapped there.

MEN BELIEVED DEAD

Little hope of the miners being found alive, should the expedition prove successful, is shown. Officials of the mining company and rescuers express the opinion that the men probably have already been suffocated.

Those entombed in the mine are three white men and 13 negroes. One other negro in the mine was working close to the entrance and discovered the fire soon enough to make his escape. He spread the alarm and mine rescue teams from nearby coal mining cities were called on for assistance. The rescue teams worked tirelessly all night in the meagre hope that the men would still be alive when reached.

FAMILIES WAIT

Muddled together in a little group near the blazing entrance of the mine Wednesday morning were the wives and families of the entombed men. They had kept a sorrowful and tireless vigil through the night in the faint hope that their loved ones might be spared them.

The whites and blacks are drawn together in the disaster affecting them both. Grief-stricken and weeping they stand, watching the smoke pour from the burning mine, urging the rescuers to greater effort.

REDS DRIVE ENEMY FROM SIBERIA

Anti-Bolshevik Forces Flee Across Manchurian Border

SOVIETS WARNED BY JAPS

Told Not to Attempt to Follow Defeated Army

PEKING, China — (By United Press) — Anti-Bolshevik forces in Siberia have been driven across the Manchurian border at Manchuli, according to official reports Wednesday.

Dispatch from Harbin said General Semenov, anti-Bolshevik leader, had been routed and that his troops fled in disorder. General Izome, Japanese commander, was said to have warned the Bolshevik troops they must not follow the defeated army.

The Japanese are rushing troops to Manchuli to enforce order.

Bolshevik troops have occupied Kiakhta and seized all private property.

WRANGLER ARRIVES

CONSTANTINOPLE — (By United Press) — The fate of thousands of civilians left in Sebastopol in the Bolshevik triumph, worried the European diplomats here Wednesday.

General Wrangel arrived late Tuesday with nearly 20,000 troops. He had no plans to announce.

French representatives confirm reports that they had threatened red authorities with reprisals if harm came to the civilians.

Military evacuation of the entire Crimean peninsula was complete Wednesday but thousands of civilians were left in Yalta, Theodosia and other cities.

Manchulie is the first railway town inside the Manchurian border. The trans-Siberian railway there connects with the Chinese eastern road. It is 500 miles northwest of Harbin, where General Izome has his headquarters and where the Chinese eastern road splits, sending one branch to Peking and another to Vladivostok.

Siberia has been the scene of desultory fighting for many weeks. Resumption of the Bolshevik drive there came jointly with the sweeping successes of red troops in Crimea and renewal of an offensive against Ukraine.

The soviet government, through, has considered itself in full possession of Siberia and only a few weeks ago negotiated the sale of development rights to an American syndicate. At that time, General Semenov was supposed to be fairly secure despite results of suffering in the army and lack of equipment.

SNOW BRINGS OUT

KIDDIES AND COASTERS

It has been said that "it's an ill wind," etc.

So Lima kiddies took advantage of an accumulation of the old proverb Wednesday and, as soon as school was out, began to enjoy the city's first real snow of the winter.

Their main activity was centered in the sled market, where business was scurrying.

Downtown stores reported a heavy increase in sled sales. Tuesday night's heavy snow took the jump on Santa Claus and the youngsters didn't wait until holiday time.

Some restricted their last year's coasters, but many others appealed to dad who responded with a new 1920 model.

ADVERTISING CASE IS APPEALED

Cleveland News Suit Against Amusement Co. Carried Up

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press) — An application of the Cleveland News for revision for suit filed by it against the Standard Amusement Co., seeking to compel the latter to pay full advertising rates on a year's contract was granted by the supreme court.

The amusement company had a contract with the News at a special rate, if a specified number of inches were used each week.

The News alleged violation of the contract.

The amusement company, according to the petition, refused to furnish further advertising, at which the News sought to collect for advertising carried to the date of abrogation at the regular advertising rate.

The News won in municipal court, but was reversed in the court of appeals. The suit now will be heard in the supreme court.

Briefs were filed by five other Ohio newspapers in the application to the supreme court, "as friends of the court." The newspapers were the Columbus Dispatch, Ohio State Journal, Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, and Dayton Herald and Dayton Journal. The Dispatch brief declared:

"Newspapers are almost entirely dependent upon advertising to finance publication. Few newspapers obtain from circulation and sales enough to pay the costs of publication. To assure a steady income and sufficient funds to publish daily, and in order to stabilize and determine in advance the amount of advertising to appear in each edition, publishers enter into contracts in advance of publication."

"When advertisers breach their contracts, it is a well established custom to charge the reasonable rate for the period which the advertising has been furnished and published."

To abrogate this custom, the brief asserted, is to "open the doors to wholesale breaches of contract by unscrupulous advertisers and to great financial harm to newspapers."

KIDS AND SNOWBALLS AGGREGATING COMBINATION

He was wearing a brand new derby when—zing!

But it was only another of the evils accompanying a heavy snowstorm.

He gave chase across N. Elizabeth street and several youths, with snowballs pelting from their arms, beat a hasty retreat and eluded capture.

The "victim" returned for his hat, picked it up, crumpled it down to his ears, and mumbled something inaudible as he went on his way.

VACCINATION IS AGAIN ORDERED

School Pupils Must Present Certificate from Physician

By Monday, November 22, all Central HI students must have provided by a physician certificate that they have been successfully vaccinated. It was announced at the High school Tuesday.

This order, which was issued by Health Commissioner Dr. J. B. Poling, will affect approximately 1,500 pupils now attending Central HI. Some weeks ago the first order was issued to South HI and the same has been expected daily at Central.

The doctor's certificates, according to Dr. Poling must be dated within three or four days before they are presented to the teacher, on the 22nd. This does not necessarily mean that the pupil must be vaccinated within that time, but simply to show that a doctor has either examined and found the vaccination was successful or that a doctor has vaccinated the pupil.

The report was opposed by a big majority of students, except the lucky ones who have already been successfully vaccinated. It is expected, however, that the pupils will take the situation good naturedly and will comply with the regulation immediately.

Dr. Poling's order to the school was: "Conditions make it imperative that schools not hitherto affected by the vaccination order, be notified to have their pupils vaccinated, show certificates of successful vaccination or remain away from school for the period of seventeen days beginning November 18th.

A survey of crippled children is also being made at the high school.

CARL LEONARD'S BODY TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

The body of Carl Leonard, killed in an accident last Saturday in Houston, Texas, will reach Lima Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock and will be taken to the home of an uncle, James M. Weaver, 455 W. Grand-ave.

Funeral services will be held at the Weaver home Friday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

Leonard is the son-in-law of Judge A. D. Miller, 927 W. High-st. His death was the second bereavement in the family in the space of a few days, another son-in-law, Herbert O. Conrad, having been killed in an automobile accident some days before.

Leonard resided here up to a few years ago, when he moved to Houston.

DOBBIN'S DAYS ARE NOT DONE; NOT SO YOU'D NOTICE IT

Who said the horse was being crowded off the earth by the auto? There's nothing to it. Proof was afforded by Street Superintendent Claude Zartman's force of men engaged in clearing sidewalks of snow Wednesday.

The horse is their biggest help, dragging the snow plows. The snow-plowed equines can go in part of safety where motor cars "fear to tread."

Then there's Clarence Milley, night baggageman at the Penna. depot. A big iron grey horse, patient and obedient, dragged the trunk laden four-wheeled trucks about the platforms Tuesday night, thru snow drifts and swirling flakes in the blizzard.

JAP EMIGRANTS NOT SOUGHT

Reports Are Denied by South American Officials

TOKYO — Continued reports from Tokyo that South American and Central American countries are exerting great efforts to encourage Japanese emigrants to settle in these lands have brought a denial from a prominent South American who was in Tokyo. The gentleman interviewed is the representative of one of the big enterprises in one of the progressive States of South America and his opinion is undoubtedly a true statement of the actual feeling in that country.

"The report that my country is inviting by every possible means the influx of Orientals is absolutely without foundation," said this representative. "We are not discouraging immigration, because we have some room in my nation, but the stories that are being circulated and passed around to offset the anti-Japanese feeling in America and prove that other nations want Orientals if America does not are absolutely false, and propaganda of other nations. It, of course, they are authorized by other nations."

The report has recently come to Yokohama in a letter from President Borah, of the Panama Republic that his nation desires all the Japanese immigrants possible. In commenting on this letter the Consul at Yokohama says that President Borah, having lived in America, knows the Americans and is consequently pro-Japanese in his sympathies.

DOG'S MOURNFUL HOWL PROVES DEATH OMEN

CHICAGO — When a dog howls to the moon in the dead of night some one has died.

So runs the ancient superstition, just how ancient none know.

Recently a stray hound slipped into the yard of the home of Mrs. R. Peavey. Out of the shadows of the fence he made his way beneath a window—and howled. Inside the house Mrs. J. Bulgin, of Portland, Ore., heard the howl and recounted to her sister the superstition of the howling canine and death.

The following morning Mrs. Bulgin received from her husband, the Rev. E. J. Bulgin, a telegram stating that their son Arthur, 23, formerly a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, had been killed on a hunting trip.

Removed for Mr. Dudley by External Home Remedy

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if they were not true. Mr. H. M. Dudley, 121 So. Kington St., Urbana, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Urbana Citizen: "Sorbol Quadruple removed a large goitre from me ten months ago. It was so large that I could not wear a collar. It hurt me so badly I could hardly sleep. It would choke and smother me. Two bottles of Sorbol quadruple completely removed it. I can now breathe freely and sleep well. I am willing to tell my experience to anyone who is troubled with a goitre. Sorbol Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate. NEW CABINET FOR GREECE FORMED

Former Premier Rallis Succeeds Venizelos, Defeated

CONSTANTINE MAY RETURN

Allies Believed Unable to Bar King From Throne

ATHENS.—(By Associated Press)—George Rallis, former premier, has succeeded in forming a cabinet to succeed the Venizelos government, defeated in Sunday's election, and the new ministry will be sworn in Wednesday, it was announced. M. Rallis, who is 69 years old, will, besides the premiership, assume the portfolio of foreign affairs.

M. Rallis previously had informed Admiral Coundouriotis, the regent, that he would accept the task of forming a cabinet but only after the resignation of the old government has been definitely announced.

There is much interest in the vote cast by the army, which has not yet been returned and which it has been thought might affect the Venizelist cause favorably. The opposition's press bureau, however, is quoted as declaring that the voting at the front would be annulled.

ALLIED POSITION
PARIS.—(By United Press).—While newspapers and public men here Wednesday were proclaiming that the allies never would permit King Constantine to return to the throne of Greece, it was privately admitted that it was extremely unlikely that Britain and France would be able to block such a move.

The people of Britain and France would not look with favor on a military enterprise to prevent the Greeks from putting Constantine back in power. It was considered barely possible that the French, in an extreme case might send such an expedition to Greece, out the chance of a maneuver like that was conceded to be quite remote.

Thus their influence over the National Assembly of Greece, which controls the nation's finances, the allies could virtually cut off funds from Constantine, but then they would have to reckon with a possible uprising of the Greek people, enraged at foreign interference with their choice of a monarch.

WILL NOT CONSENT
The allies will not consent to King Constantine's return to the Greek throne, Le Matin said Wednesday. The newspaper said they might agree to a compromise on the naming of Prince George, the crown prince, as king.

Official Paris appeared stupefied at the unexpected result of the Greek elections. Leaders were nonplussed at the clear indication that the people desire the return of their deposed monarch despite the accomplishments of Premier Venizelos.

"Will Sophie Holenzollern again rule Greece, enlarged at the expense of allied blood?" asked Le Journal. "The restoration of the Kaiser's sister and brother-in-law would be a grave thing for European peace."

Venizelos will not withdraw his resignation, altho reports from educational provinces Wednesday showed he was not hopelessly beaten in the national elections.

TWO SEEK RELIEF IN COURTS

Husband and Wife Plaintiffs in Divorce Petitions

Charges that he neglected his personal welfare and health to the point where separation was necessary, has been made in a suit for divorce filed by Mrs. Lillian Hall, in court against her husband, Charles F. Hall.

They were married 23 years ago and have reared a family of five children, the youngest of whom is 11 years of age. Their wedding was celebrated in Ottawa the day before Decoration Day in 1907.

Mrs. Hall also alleges he failed to provide her with sufficient clothing and charged her with infidelity in the presence of her mother. They separated in June, 1917. Hall is now said to be in Putnam-co.

Guy Dillon, in a suit for divorce from his wife, Goldie Dillon, residing over the Elizabeth bakery, charges that she "carries about without thought of home or child. He says he has been forced to care for their child and as a custody of the girl, now six years old.

They were married in Lima in April, 1913.

NAVAL AWARDS

IF friends of Admiral Sims exhibit a keen disappointment over the failure of the Navy Department to furnish him with an award for services rendered during the world war as commanding officer of the American fleet in the war zone, let them be reminded of the fact that Admiral Sims declined such an award one year ago and associated with his declination stirred up a lot of heated controversy which amounted to nothing and which demonstrated not a single bit of inefficiency and mismanagement on the part of the naval officials.

It would have been adding insult upon insult to the navy if Admiral Sims had been pressed once more to accept the Medal of Honor and then for a second time had rejected the proffered recognition. A year ago Sims found fault with the granting of the coveted Medals of Honor. He pointed out in particular the case of Lieut. E. V. M. Isaacs and said that Isaacs had done nothing but "get captured by the enemy." Naval records show that Lieut. Isaacs, following his capture by a German submarine commander learned important facts about German U-boat plans and finally escaped from his captors and brought back the information he had gained to his superior officers. But Admiral Sims, feeling that sort of thing didn't amount to much affected to believe that the Naval Board of Awards had not discriminated in a proper manner as to the bestowal of the Medals, and therefore, to show his personal indignation he refused his own medal, an incident without precedent in the annals of the navy.

As a matter of fact the Naval Board of awards did not offer Admiral Sims a medal this year for the very good reason that the medal was awarded last year and still may be had by the Admiral at any time he desires to claim it at the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, where the award has been deposited.

WAITING FOR A TRAIN

HOMELY subject for an editorial, isn't it? But that's the thing just at this moment in the mind of the individual responsible for these paragraphs.

Loafing around and anticipating the arrival of a steam train or an interurban car, expected to bear someone coming from a long distance to visit you; or intending to board the train yourself, to go elsewhere—it's all the same, a tedious job.

Then the heartless telegraph operator or agent informs just about the time the train is due that it's an hour or two late. That adds to one's serenity of mind—not. But of course it must be endured.

Our idea of an exemplification of the acme of patience is the man who uncomplainingly awaits the arrival of a late train. But it's doubtful if there are any such.

LET'S START EARLY

THE first real snowfall of the winter is here. There will be much more. Why not start right this year by keeping it off the sidewalks? It makes bad walking, is dangerous to pedestrians and is a bad practice to allow. Lima has an ordinance providing for the clearing of streets but it is not always carried out. It should not be necessary for residents to be forced to do their duty in this respect.

MISS LIMA: "With base ball done for the season and football soon to pass, our sport editor is cultivating the acquaintance of the radiator rubes."

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

WE are again in the midst of a Red Cross Roll Call—the fourth. Lima and Allen-co have been summoned to the colors of the great humanitarian organization to do their part. And they will do it, maintaining the fine record that has been attained by this city and county in the past, in that connection.

Devoted, untiring, patriotic and loyal men and women are back of the concerted effort and there is no reason whatever to believe that the campaign will be otherwise than successful.

The Red Cross is just as essential now as it was during time of war. There are hungry, cold and unclothed millions in Europe for whom the cry of humanity goes up. Following in the wake of the war are woe, misery and suffering. The world has not recovered from the holocaust. Famine stalks almost unrestrained; disease epidemic adds to the horror.

Every dollar given to the Red Cross aids in the great work of carrying out the biblical injunction: "Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these, My children, ye do it unto Me."

Be proud to wear the emblem of Red Cross membership.

CARELESS AUTO DRIVERS

AFTER noting the actions of numerous auto drivers, in city streets, on the highways in the country and on the streets of villages, one cannot help arriving at the conclusion that one of the greatest criminals uncaught today is the careless driver.

He is found everywhere, and unfortunately all too often he is a blot on the roads in our own Allen-co. Usually, he manages to get along for some time without a mishap, but sooner or later it happens. He either kills himself or somebody else, or breaks up his own machine or that owned by another.

In cases of that kind if the party injured was only the guilty one himself, it wouldn't be so bad, but quite often the innocent suffer also, paying for the carelessness of another. The rules of the road are simple and few, but many drivers display an amazing ignorance of them, or a reckless disregard of safety first.

Now that winter has set in and the pavements and highways are more dangerous for motor traffic, precautions against accidents should be redoubled. Less regard for the clock and more regard for human life would pay better.

MISTER HUSBAND, TRY THIS!

ILL you be one of the fellows who, when your helpmate thru life lies cold in her casket, will say, "She never knew how much I loved her?" Will you put off until she has passed from this worldly existence to show your appreciation of her?

Don't do it. You may say that sentiment is silly. Your wife will not think it is. She didn't think it was when you were courting her and neither did you.

Surprise her tonight. Slip your arm about her just like you used to and tell her you love her. Watch her brighter up. Then, too, there are some other little things you may be neglecting. Why not have the florist send her a bunch of flowers or take her a box of candy? It will pay you. You never neglected that before you were married. Don't wait until she cannot appreciate it and then wall that she never knew how much you loved her. Tell and show her now!

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

Here's a round robin from four amazing girls:
"We four girls here in the market all have red, red noses. You had a piece in the paper ten or twenty years ago telling how to remove 'em—we are uncertain whether you said to use a scalpel or file 'em off. But we want to know, and just to show how much we love you we've put our noses together, instead of writing you four tedious letters, and we are not saying a word about whiskey or rum, which is something we de'say you seldom encounter in letters from red-nosed readers."

Seldom! Bless you, children, it's the first time since 1892.

Meat market are usually chilly and young women perverse. On a hot, sweltering summer day they (the young women) sports furs, and on a bleak fall day they wear something like evening dress. This is absolute hygienic, even if it does brighten up the nose. A young woman, like anyone else, may put on or leave off whatever she wishes, whenever she likes, provided she is perfectly comfortable. She may be comfortable under all circumstances if she will wear wool or silk next the skin. Wool and silk are slow heat conductors; cotton and linen are fast heat conductors. Wool or silk or both combined conserve the vasomotor function. There we go—always have to spoil good work by dragging in some utterly meaningless medical term. It merely betrays the writer's incapacity. Big words always do that.

The vasomotor portion of the involuntary nervous system, with a controlling center in the brain, regulates the distribution of the blood. If these busy nerves sleep at the switch one would just freeze to death every time one went outdoors on a cold day or indulged in a cold bath. They are the warming-up nerves, and also the cooling-off nerves, but the warming-up function is positive and the cooling-off is merely negative.

Think of the tremendous strain the so-called civilized, and particularly the mollicoddled life, places upon the vasomotors! Scores of times daily we plunge suddenly from a tank filled with respiratory fluid at a temperature of, say, seventy-five degrees, even eighty degrees if we are badly coddled, out into the open sea of air at perhaps 40 or 20 degrees. Then in a little while suddenly back into the hot tank again, and so on ad infinitum. We need protection, not against cold, but against the terrific gymnastic strain of the vasomotor nerves. In wool or silk or both combined we have it in a form second only to the hairy coat we wore before we adopted the civilized or mollicoddled life.

Now, girls, do not throw the paper down in disgust. You needn't wear those famous flannels of grandpa's time. In fact, I warn you against any tightly woven material; the artificial skin or underwear should be light and porous, not air or water proof. For example, so-called fleece-lined material is an abomination for any one to wear. Wear 'em as light as you wish, but let 'em be wool or silk or both, and knitted, not woven. And stockings of similar material.

JUST A GIRL

BY JANE PHELPS

MARY A GOOD BUSINESS WOMAN

How the time flew. Mary and Tom were both very busy at the shop. "The business was constantly growing; they were now cramped for room to serve all that came for pan-cakes and other things—as well as needing a larger place to cook in. Tom had found such a place in the same locality, but it would be at least two months before they could move."

Mary had proved a remarkably clever business woman. She had so little education, it was the more surprising. She was clever, ingenious, quick to see opportunity. If she had a fault in business, it was that perhaps she was too willing to "take a long chance," as Tom expressed it. But he was practical, inclined to weigh all they did carefully, and so as I have said before, acted as a balance wheel for Mary.

What they had accomplished was marvelous when one took into account that all the capital they had had to start the shop was the little I got on my jewelry from the pawnbroker; and the help Mrs. Fagin had given us. I had been of very little use even at first, saving in fixing up the place attractively, and helping to plan. I know now as I look back, that I never could have made the success Mary did; my health, in the first place, would not have permitted. I never had been very strong and restaurant work is hard. Then, too, I never could have accustomed myself to being tipped, to the manner of some of the people who patronized us. The work was not congenial, and I do not believe one can do good work unless it is.

But Mary was an inspiration. Heart and soul were in that little business she herself had built up. Next to Tom, she loved that shop better than anything in the world. It was no wonder she made it a success.

Mr. Claxton frequently took a meal at the shop, and was very much interested in both Tom and Mary.

"If young people could realize what they were able to accomplish by application and industry, we would have fewer unhappy marriages," he said to me one day when I told him that Tom and Mary had only a short time before their wedding. Then he added: "Working girls, accustomed to their own pay envelopes and unaccustomed to domestic work, are often dissatisfied when they have to endure the confinement of household duties, and are without money of their own."

But everyone can't go into business.

"No—but every working girl who has been independent by her own efforts should have an understanding with the man she intends to marry. No matter how small his wage, if he objects to her still working after they are married—as most men do—it should be understood that a certain part of his money belongs to her. In other words, she should be paid for doing the work of the home—paid in cash. Then let her do her share in providing. But it is unfair to girls who have been earners, to start their married life under the handicap of either having no money they can call their own, or being obliged to ask for it."

"I think you should write a book on the subject, Mr. Claxton."

He smiled, then asked: "Don't you agree with me?"

"I never have thought anything about it, but I think you are right. Father and Mother each had their own bank account, or, rather, a joint account."

"Your parents were in very different circumstances."

"Yes—I do believe you are right. I have only been a working girl a short time, but I should miss my envelope. I delight in the feeling it gives—that it is mine because I have earned it, not as a gift."

"And you do earn it, Miss Stewart, every penny of it."

I did not realize it at that time, but my employer often chatted with me for a few moments when work happened to be slack. He did it so easily, in so matter-of-fact a way, that I gave it no thought. Afterward I learned that busy employers not often wasted their own and their employees' time in chatting with them.

I learned it in a very disagreeable way thru overhearing a conversation between Miss Wilcox and Mr. Betts.

YOUR NAME

ZELLNER

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
VARIATIONS—Zellner, Zoellner.
RACIAL ORIGIN—German.
SOURCE—An occupation or title.

German family names have gone thru virtually the same process of formation as the English, with the exception that they became stabilized from mere descriptive surnames in to hereditary names at a period which lagged two or three centuries behind the English. That is to say, whereas family names had become so well established in England by the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries that people had forgotten how they had been formed and what their original significances were that they began to change the spelling in many cases to agree with words that sounded like them, or into corrupted forms, at this same period in Germany family names were in a more elemental stage of formation, and their meanings had not been forgotten.

To put it another way, the period of family name formation in Germany was closer to the period of printing, hence to the period of reading and general education, which, together with the fact that they have had less time in which to change, explains why German names as a whole show less variation from their original forms.

The family name of Zellner, which is quite a common one, is simply the German word for "toll gatherer," literally "toller." The more ancient form of the word was "zoellner." Subsequently it has been spelled "zoellner" with an "umlaut" over the "e," indicating the original existence of two diphthongs "oe," from which it is easy to see how the family name has come to be spelled variously with an "e," and "oe" or an "o" in the first syllable.
Tomorrow—Austin.

WHAT ARE YOUR CHANCES OF SUCCESS?

Do You Step Out With Snap and Vigor? Are You Able to Get Things Done?

Don't Stand In Your Own Way

People with Thin Weak Blood Have a Hard Time of it. They Should Take Pepto-Mangan

Look at the facts of your health. So much depends on having red blood. If you stand up in front of your work with half-starved blood in your system you are standing in your own way. You are blocking your own progress.

Thin blood makes you dull. It makes you pale. You take no enjoyment out of your work. It is only half as good as it should be. You can remedy that condition so easily. Begin taking that fine tonic, Pepto-Mangan, today and keep it up for a while. Your blood will become nourished. Pepto-Mangan makes red blood corpuscles. You will get energy and strong power of resistance. Instead of standing in your own way, you will push yourself ahead because of greater vitality.

But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the name is on the package. The tablets or the liquid have the same medicinal value.—Adv.

USE IODINE FOR YOUR RAW SORE THROAT

Shut Off the Dangerous Cold or Influenza Before It Gets Started—

—Roast Salt.

There is really nothing better for a raw, sore throat than the application of a little iodine. But don't use the old plain tincture of iodine of course, for it stains and sometimes irritates your skin and is, of course, disagreeable to use. Instead get a small jar of Iodinated Iodine, in convenient form—iodine is practically tasteless, never irritates, and when spread on the throat with the fingers, rapidly penetrates direct to the sore, inflamed membranes, reduces swelling, loosens congestion, drives out soreness, pain, and prevents the development of serious trouble.

Iodinated Iodine retains all the soothing, analgesic and antiseptic properties of straight Iodine with none of its disagreeable or dangerous features. It makes a famous "run on" for Croup, Laryngitis, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Swollen Joints, Neuritis, Spasms, or Bruises. In treating Croup, Sore Throat, Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, etc., its rapid healing power seems like short of magic. Most folks know the value of Iodine—make sure next time you need it to get Iodinated Iodine. You will never need it again in any other form get a trial jar today at Fred Butler's, Mykanti.

does wonders for sick skins

That itching, burning skin trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of embarrassment, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians prescribe it constantly. In most cases, it stops itching instantly and heals eruptions promptly. It is very easy and economical to use.

Sold by all druggists. Resinol Ointment should usually be used by Resinol Soap.

When a Doctor Sneezes

Doctors, out in all kinds of weather, suffer frequently from colds yet seldom seriously.

There's a good reason. Doctors realize the danger and upon appearance of the first symptoms of cold begin taking measures to check its progress.

Follow the doctors' example and you too will escape the serious consequences of neglect. Take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets as soon as you feel a cold coming on. They stop a cold right off; ward off fever, cleanse intestines, never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them—only 25c a box.

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanalac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years," was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. George W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me, but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case."

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run-down condition. I was away from my weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times my back would ache so bad I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect."

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, just tell them to see me."

Tanalac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading drug lists in every town.

Organization of Factorymen at Central Hi, Thursday

The Lima Industrial Fellowship League will be organized at a meeting Thursday night in Central high school.

Delegations and representatives from every factory in Lima will attend the session and take part in the formation of the new shop league.

Secretary Lincoln of the Chamber of Commerce, explained Wednesday the organization is a league for factory workers.

Its purpose, he said, was to develop fellowship among the workers and better community welfare.

Robert J. Wise, secretary of the Industrial Fellowship League of Flint, Mich., will be the principal speaker at Thursday night's meeting.

He will lend aid in perfecting the Lima organization. H. W. Huff has been named temporary chairman of the Lima league.

A temporary executive committee is comprised of the following: Paul Lawrence, O. G. Snyder, R. G. Coffman, W. J. Noonan, J. C. Crawford, J. W. Beall, H. D. Robb, O. C. McKinney, H. W. Snook, John Kortier, J. H. Copp, R. D. Chamberlain and R. W. Huff.

All members of the executive committee are representatives of various Lima industrial plants.

The Chamber of Commerce secretary explained the league will work independently of the Chamber of Commerce.

"It will elect its own officers and have its own executive committee and board of directors," Secretary Lincoln said.

Thursday night's meeting, he said, will start at 7:30 p. m.

KILLED IN FALL

WARRIN, Ohio.—Thomas Brinkley, 48, laborer, employed at the General Fire Extinguisher plant, was instantly killed here Wednesday when he stepped from a plank and fell 40 feet into a pit.

Brinkley's skull was crushed. Brinkley's home was in Akron.

DIES IN WRECK

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Mrs. Jacob Cook, 80, was killed and four other women were seriously injured when their automobile skidded and turned turtle near here late Tuesday.

FRESH AIR AND LOTS OF IT, MAYOR'S HOBBY

As an exponent of the "fresh air theory," Lima's mayor, F. A. Burkhardt, probably has no equal.

The mayor nearly always walks down to his office in the mornings. Wednesday, with the city recovering from its worst snow storm of the season, the mayor walked nearly a mile to his office in the City Building.

"It's invigorating and starts the mind to functioning properly for the day's work ahead," he said.

SOME HUNTER, WE'LL SAY

IS SERGEANT EBERLE Stiff, sore and tired after a two day's hunting trip, Sergeant Eberle returned to his desk at police headquarters Wednesday morning and telling stories of how he bagged 18 bunnies.

"If I couldn't shoot 'em, I'd knock 'em in the head with my gun," he said.

"I stepped on one, and it is needless to say my No. 10's put an end to that hare."

Our terms are the best in the city.

DON'T USE GUN TO HUNT BUNNIES IN CORPORATE LIMITS

Nimrods who would seek the elusive bunny within the corporate limits of Lima will have to employ weapons other than a gun.

This was the edict Wednesday of Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, who said he had received a number of complaints that hunters were using firearms within the city boundary lines.

Several complaints were filed that hunters were trespassing and destroying property in the outlying districts.

"Even tho a man may be carrying a hunting license," Mayor Burkhardt said, "it does not license him to hunt on other people's property without first securing permission from the owner."

The mayor pointed out there is a city ordinance prohibiting the discharging of firearms within the city limits.

MAYOR SEES SNOW AS AID TO WATER SUPPLY

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt Wednesday was optimistic over the possibilities of relief for Lima's fast disappearing water supply.

With the city consuming at the rate of four and one half million gallons of water daily for the past week, the situation has been precarious, the mayor said.

"However," he said, "Tuesday night's heavy snow and Wednesday's thaw should aid in replenishing the supply."

Warmer weather with a rain on top of the snow would aid conditions, the mayor declared.

DECISION DELAYED

Judge Jackson Wednesday delayed his decision in the case of Harold Mowery, 444 1-2 S. Main-st., who is charged with the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor. He will probably decide the case Monday.

Samuel P. Bator, of Philadelphia

apparently isn't worrying a bit about dropping the wedding ring as he sits with his fiancée, Mrs. Louise Pitou Wolf of Ventnor, N. J., ready to go up in a flying boat for their marriage, which was performed while the flying boat was gliding to the ground from the height of 2,000 feet. The flight was made off the beach at Atlantic City. It is said to be the first airplane wedding ever held there. The bride is the daughter of Augustus Pitou, theatrical manager. Her two children by her first marriage accompanied them on their wedding flight.

NEW BLOUSE FOR INFORMAL HOURS

By ELOISE.

More and more are women adopting the dainty over-blouses for wear at home during leisure hours. These blouses are chosen because they serve two purposes. They are loose and comfortable as a negligee and yet they are formal enough and attractive enough to be worn when receiving informally or at the luncheon or dinner table in the intimacy of one's family. They offer a great variety as to style, color and material and may reflect the personality of the wearer better than any street suit or frock. There must always be, of necessity, a certain sameness or conservative tone to the frocks for street wear, but the blouse or costume designed for home wear may be of any color and any design to please the wearer.

The new tangerine color is shown in this lovely blouse of chiffon, which is a good illustration of the new blouse for informal wear or "Blouse à l'Amie," as the French call it. It is made on graceful lines with a round neck and short, wide sleeves. There is a fascinating design in colored worsted embroidery and there is a chiffon lining in a harmonizing shade. A wide belt of the chiffon marks a waistline. This may be worn with satin or wool skirts and makes a stunning costume with either.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ritenour, Glenwood-ave., are entertaining at their home guests, Mrs. Watson Smith, Toledo.

Mrs. C. E. Durbin, E. High-st., entertained the members of the Alterella Euchre club at her home Tuesday afternoon. At the close of the afternoon of euchre Mrs. J. H. Allgier and Mrs. H. Shurtliff were awarded the prizes. At 4 o'clock refreshments were served.

Members attending the meeting were: Mrs. C. F. Jones, Mrs. J. H. Allgier, Mrs. Maud Housh, Mrs. H. W. Shurtliff, Mrs. Daniel Gilbert, Mrs. Fred Stevens, Mrs. H. B. Hoffman, Mrs. James Cornelius, Mrs. Edgar Webb, Mrs. Frank Foutz and Mrs. Frank Leuchman.

Mr. Mackaye has written a number of poems as well as poems and the last is the "Pilgrim's Tercentenary." A representative group of his prose include, "The Canterbury Pilgrims," "Jean d'Arc," "Sappho and Pharon," "The Scarecrow" and "Maler."

LOVELY OLIVE THOMAS IN "DARLING MINE"

Who is it indeed that will deny the beauty, the winsomeness, the loveliness of Olive Thomas whose tragic death recently robbed the screen of its most popular actress? Among many others she left as a monument to her superior ability a photo-play in "Darling Mine" which ranks right up among the best that she ever produced and this delightful Irish comedy will be seen at The Lyric Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The setting in this picture are bewitching, particularly the Irish cottage scenes along the coast. Theatrical life is delightfully and accurately portrayed, but best of all is sweet, bewitching Olive herself who, in this picture, is set off more beautifully than in any other in which she was ever seen.

"CHRISTMASSY" DISPLAYS APPEAR

With Christmas slightly more than a month distant, Lima toy shops in downtown stores are displaying a wealth of new and unique toys. A canvass of the various stores Wednesday reveals new and more modern wonders from toyland conceived in the minds of America's greatest toymakers.

This year's toys are more and more like the world of the "growsups." Combined, they might be said to represent the present ultra-modern twentieth century in miniature.

The toy shopper will find everything from a mechanical beetle, that moves all its legs, to a miniature railway engine that's capable of "getting up steam" and carries real coal in its tenders.

There are airplanes with propellers that really go 'round; a cat that walks across the floor and "meows"; and an Irish hod carrier with real bricks in his hod.

Then, too, there will be found an electric interurban railway, poles, trolley wire and everything complete.

In fact, anything from the minds of the world's greatest inventors of real life will be found in miniature on the toy shelves.

The toys of 1920 include many educational mechanical devices for the boy or girl who likes to "tinker."

There are plenty of toys in Lima for every boy and girl. Santa Claus, undoubtedly, will receive a record delivery of mail this year from the pencils of Lima's "Young America."

A meeting of the Child Conservation League will be held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Oscar Stevens, W. North-st.

Mrs. J. M. Musser, 866 W. Elm-st. will be hostess to the members of the Friendship club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer Roberts will entertain the members of the Rambler dinner club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank E. Harman, Lakewood-ave. will entertain with a luncheon-bridge at her home Thursday afternoon for the pleasure of Mrs. Frank Drake, who will leave the latter part of the month for California where she will spend the winter months.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

She was silent. Looking at her, after a while, Billy saw her staring out obliviously into the darkness; her hair was hanging all about her. His glance seemed to recall her thoughts. She started and then brushed back her hair; the sun fell from it and she took hold of one soft strand. "Look out, I'm going to shake this!" she warned, and he half shut his eyes and underneath the lids he saw her shaking her head as vigorously as a little terrier after a bath.

"Isn't it awful?" she appealed. "I could scratch a match on my face," he confirmed.

"But tell me," she began again, "how did you know I was in that place? And I must tell you how I happened to go and how I was kept there."

"You were told there was a quarantine, weren't you?" Billy supplied, as she hesitated.

Her astonishment found quick speech. "Why, how did you know that?"

"The Baroff told me—that Vienne girl who came into your room."

"Why, you know everything! How did you?"

"But how could you think it was I? And what were you doing at the wall? I don't see how—"

"Oh, one of the palace maids gave me a message in Arabic and I thought it was from you. You see, I suspected—I had seen you drive off in that motor."

"But how could the maid bring you a message? Where were you? Where did she see you?"

"I was painting out in front of the palace," Billy sounded more and more casual.

"You said you were an engineer," said Arlee. His heart jumped. At least she had remembered that!

"So I am—the painting was just a joke."

"And you happened there," she began, wondering, and after he had opened his mouth to correct her, he closed it silently again. Gratitude was an unwieldy bond. He did not want to burden her with obligation.

And he suspected, with a rankling sort of pang, that he was not the rescuer she had expected. So he made as light as possible of his entrance into the affair telling her nothing at all of his first uneasiness and his interview with the one-eyed man which had confirmed his suspicions against the Captain's character, and the masquerade he had adopted so he could hang about the palace.

Instead he let her think him there by chance; he ascribed the delivery of Fritz's message to sheer miracle, and his presence under the walls that night to wondrous adventure, with only a half-thought that she was involved.

Stoutly he dwelt upon Falconer's part in the attack the next night, and upon the entire reasonableness of his abandonment of the trail. He put it down at his own mulishness that he had hung on and had learned thru the little boy of her removal from the palace.

He interrupted himself then with questions, and she told him of her strange trip down the Nile in the dahabiyeh, under the guard of the old woman and the Nubian. "But how did you come?" she demanded.

"Well, I just swung on the same train he was in," said Billy. "And I got out at Assiout because he'd bought a ticket there, but I couldn't see a thing of him in the darkness and confusion of the station, and I had a horrid feeling that he'd gone somewhere else, the Lord knew where, to you. But the Imp—that's the little Arab boy who adopted me and my cause—went racing up and down, and he got a glimpse of the captain tearing off on a horse and behind him a man loping along with a bundle on a donkey, and the Imp raced behind him and yelled he'd dropped something. The man went back to look, and the Imp ran alongside him, asking for work as a donkey boy. The fellow shook him off, but that had delayed him, and the two lost the horseman we kept the donkey-man in sight and followed him on to the village. I reconnoitered while the Imp stole these two camels—jolly good ones they are—and while I was trying to make out where you were, for there were lights in several windows, I suddenly heard your voice and then I saw a glare of fire. Well, my revolver was a passport. Now, how about that fire? What started it?"

"I did; he—he was trying to make love to me," she answered breathlessly, "and I just got to the candles."

"Are you burned at all? Truthfully now? I never stopped to ask."

"If I am, I don't know it," she laughed tremulously. Then, "Isn't this crazy?" she burst forth with.

"It's—it's off the beaten track," Billy B. Hill admitted. "It's a jump note of laughter joined hers as they sat staring owlishly at each other thru the dark after-storm."

A little longer they talked, their questions and answers flitting back and forth over those six strange days; then, as the excitement waned, Billy heard a sleepy little sigh back into the Middle Ages." His and saw a small hand covering a yawn. The girl's slender shoulders were willing with incalculable fatigue.

Instantly he commanded sleep, and obediently she curled down into the little nest he prepared, pillow-ing her head upon his coat, and almost instantly he heard her rhythmic breathing, slow and unhurried as a little child. His heart swelled with a feeling for which he had no name, as he sat there, his back against a camel, staring out into the night, an unknown feeling in which joy was very deep and triumph was merged into a holy thankfulness.

LEGION BASKET BALL TEAM STARTS SEASON NOVEMBER 26.

MANAGER COSTELLO RAPIDLY DEVELOPING A STRONG TEAM THAT IS EXPECTED TO MAKE A NAME FOR ITSELF IN CAGE CIRCLES

MILAN INDEPENDENTS ARE TO PLAY FIRST GAME HERE

By BILL BARLOW.
Sporting Editor.

A week from Friday, Nov. 26, the American Legion basketball team will formally open its season here at Memorial Hall with the strong Milan five, who are supported by Jeffy, Bluer Smith, right fielder of the Cleveland Indians, playing the pivot position.

Manager Costello is confident he is starting a championship outfit in the field and that before the season progresses far, much will be heard of his string of cage artists.

Baker, playing center, is as fast a pivot man as ever zomped over a basketball floor in Lima. Costello is well pleased with the showing Baker has been making in practice games and is of the opinion that this man will be one of his most sensational players.

Besides being equipped with all sorts of speed, Baker is a good shot at the baskets and especially keen at being able to make successful long shots.

Miller, Williams and Thomas are three men looking high for the two forwards. All three are showing up well, but it is thought that Miller is the only one sure of his berth. Thomas and Williams will probably divide playing in the first game.

Churchill is showing splendid form at floor guard, while Costello is also working out in this position and expects to start Churchill in most of the games.

Two good guards. Cook and O'Brien are looking big for the other guard positions. Both are husky players and it is doubtful just which one will be selected to start in the opening game. O'Brien has been given more opportunity and showing good form and is rapidly developing into a player of exceptional ability.

After the Milan game on Dec. 7, the Legion quintet will meet the fast Goudy-Tire and Rubber Co. team here. The "rubber makers" are one of the best known independent teams in Ohio and their record last year is one which any team would be proud to own. The Legion boys have two hard fights ahead of them for the two opening games.

The New York Nationals are being south by Costello and is firm in his belief that this team will appear here the latter part of December. This team last season won the undisputed independent title in New York state and this year are spreading out and are expected to lay claim to the eastern championship.

Another team that undoubtedly will be seen here around the first of the year is the Ben-Ross of Indianapolis, Ind. holder of the independent title in the Hoosier state for the past three years. In this time they have only been defeated once, and then by the Baltimore Orioles, three years ago in a game in the Y at Indianapolis.

Tickets on sale. Season tickets have been placed on sale and many have already been sold at $10 each, admitting the holder to 20 games which the Legion team expects to play here.

Manager Costello has already received many orders from industrial plants, ordering from five to fifteen season tickets. He is pleased of the support being manifested in the team and says that if public spirit remains where it is that his team cannot help but be successful.

After each game the floor will be cleared and those attending will dance until 12 o'clock.

CHICAGO TO BE BALL MECCA
CHICAGO — Achievement, not words will be the platform of Judge K. M. Landis, baseball's newest ruler.

Landis discussing plans for baseball's future, said Chicago was to be the mecca for baseball players. He will make his headquarters here and squabbles, which may arise, will be brought to Chicago for him to decide.

"While I was making my decision as to whether I would accept the baseball offer, men came to me and said 'By all means take it. Leave the bench. You have earned it,'" Landis said.

"There seems to be a great concern in some minds about my ability to handle both jobs. They are not afraid I won't do my work. They are afraid I will do my work."

LEONARD FIGHTS KELLY TONIGHT
NEW YORK — Heavyweight champion, "The Lion" Eddie Kelly in a 12-round bout here tonight. The match is regarded by Leonard as a "trial battle" for his contest with Joe Volante at Madison Square Garden on November 26.

At Football Camps

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — A rain storm drove the Harvard varsity football team into the baseball cage for the early part of Tuesday afternoon's drill, the signal practice taking place under cover. This was fairly long, the several possible combinations for Saturday being tried on the line and backfield, but the coaches still declining to announce the final lineup for the New Haven game Saturday.

YALE
NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Yale's football eleven, which reached town Tuesday night, after a stay of three days at White Plains, was reorganized for its closing game of the season with Harvard here Saturday.

Perry Dean was given right end, displacing Dilworth, who was cited several times by Princeton last Saturday. Herbert Kempton was assigned to quarter back position, displacing Thomas Murphy. Jesse Stuart was given full back, displacing Doc Jordan. Capt. Callahan's injured elbow will not allow him to return to center this season. Harry Cross, who was slightly injured in the Princeton game, has completely recovered and was assigned the position again.

OHIO STATE
COLUMBUS — The first snowfall of the year spread a six inch blanket of snow over Ohio field and drove Coach Wiley and his Buckeyes into the gymnasium for practice. It was rather a stiff retraining, the team working on offense and defense against the second team for two hours, after which the team went outdoors on Ohio field for a half hour signal drill in the snow. Preparing a defense for the Illinois forward pass has taken up much time, while the Buckeye plan of attack has led them to practice the past almost constantly. A few changes in lineup may be necessitated Saturday by Wiley's plan of defense, but just what these changes will be is hard to predict. Stinebaugh was the only member of the Ohio team to see Illinois play Saturday and his report of the strength of the Illinois team has taken away all overconfidence.

MINNESOTA
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The long expected shift in the Minnesota backfield is looked for next Saturday, when Minnesota meets Michigan on Northrop field. There was an indication of it today when Dr. Williams moved Armstrong from quarter back to half and had Pete Regular calling the signals. This combination has been tried before, but the Minnesota coach has not used it in a game yet. Only a light workout was handed the boys.

NOTRE DAME
NOTRE DAME, Ind. — The Notre Dame squad ran thru a hard workout on Carter field Tuesday afternoon. The field drill was followed by a talkfest in the gym, in which Coach Rockne pointed out the defense of Notre Dame's play in the Indiana game.

INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — With Jordan Athletic field covered with an inch of snow and flakes still falling, Indiana worked out under trying conditions Tuesday for more than an hour. Two squads ran signals up and down the gridiron, rehearsing new plays to be used against Purdue Saturday. Hank Mack Williams who had three tries broken in the Notre Dame game, is out for good. Thomas and Cravens are the substitutes. Fenece, a big lineman, who developed an infection in his foot after the Northwestern game, and Left End "Pat" Donovon, operated on for appendicitis on the day the squad left for Minnesota, worked with the squad and each will play at least a part of the contest.

BUCKEYES TO SCRAP HARD FOR TITLE
Altho Illinois is a team of known football strength, well fortified in all departments of play, it will be called upon to face a highly perfected machine Saturday, when Ohio State is met at Urbana in a game which will determine a western conference champion.

In only one department—kicking—can Illinois be said to have a decided advantage. The Buckeye eleven does not boast a field goal kicker of Ralph Fletcher's type, while the punters are not the equal of Hellstrom, if he regains the form shown early in the season.

Kicking Nearly Test Badgers
Kicking may be the factor to decide the issue in this all-important contest. Illinois nearly won from Wisconsin last Saturday thru Ralph Fletcher's field goal kicking, while Michigan gained a decided advantage over Chicago in the exchange of punts. There is nothing so discouraging in football as to have forty yards of hard earned ground taken away by punting ability of one man, whose kicks are well covered by the ends.

It is almost certain both elevens will resort to the aerial attack early in the contest. Neither possesses the offense to gain consistently by use of straight football, and the forward pass must be called into commission to keep the defense scattered properly. Ohio State defeated Wisconsin by executing two long passes and another long forward started Michigan's defeat.

Buckeye Team Well Balanced
Ohio is a well balanced team. It has weight and power to the line and a better than average backfield. The ends match up with any two of the same eleven in the Big Ten, but Robert Fletcher is a more experienced general than Workman, the Buckeye quarter, and Illinois will have an advantage in this position.

Capt. Huffman, Ohio tackle, is one of the best men in the conference in his position. He plays the game from start to finish, and is a tireless worker. In the Michigan game he scored his team's second touchdown by blocking Stokely's punt and then falling on the oval behind the Wolfing goal. He recovered several fumbles and generally did his part in opening up holes. He will be superior to any player Coach Zuppke expects to play in his line.

Spies Also Good Tackle
Spies, the other tackle, did not play against Michigan because of an injured shoulder. His work last year and in Ohio's early games this season indicates he is playing in better form, and is an ideal running mate for the captain. In the absence of Spies, Coach Wiley moved Trotter, a guard, out to tackle. With the regular tackle back in the game, Trotter will play guard Saturday and can be relied upon to take care of the position.

F. Taylor, the other guard, is one of the most aggressive forwards in the conference. What this player lacks in experience he more than makes up for by his ability to get

ILLINI ACTS TO PREVENT SCALPING

URBANA, Ill. — Rigorous action to prevent ticket speculation and betting on the Illinois-Ohio game and future Illini contests was taken by the Illinois board of athletic control today. The board requested the university council of administration to expel any student found guilty of speculation.

Original purchasers will be held responsible for their tickets, which if found in the hands of speculators will result in the names of original purchasers being barred from purchasing tickets in the future. Furthermore, the board agreed to blacklist for ticket purchasing hereafter persons known to have wagered money on the contest.

Zuppke dismissed the Illini at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, but while the boys were at work they knew it they were scrimmaged against both seniors and freshmen. The freshmen, with Majors impersonating Workman, hunted passes against the varsity.

The Illini seemed to be full of fight. They realize just what they are up against Saturday and figure on an up-hill battle. The memory of what they did last year is a stimulant, however.

To message anyone ticket purchaser Director Huff announced another batch of tickets had been mailed tonight and that the remainder would be mailed Wednesday.

SELECT QUARTERS
PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Gainesville, Fla. has been selected as the training grounds of the Philadelphia National basketball team next spring. It was announced here today. The team expects to leave for the south the latter part of February.

INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — With Jordan Athletic field covered with an inch of snow and flakes still falling, Indiana worked out under trying conditions Tuesday for more than an hour. Two squads ran signals up and down the gridiron, rehearsing new plays to be used against Purdue Saturday. Hank Mack Williams who had three tries broken in the Notre Dame game, is out for good. Thomas and Cravens are the substitutes. Fenece, a big lineman, who developed an infection in his foot after the Northwestern game, and Left End "Pat" Donovon, operated on for appendicitis on the day the squad left for Minnesota, worked with the squad and each will play at least a part of the contest.

BUCKEYES TO SCRAP HARD FOR TITLE
Altho Illinois is a team of known football strength, well fortified in all departments of play, it will be called upon to face a highly perfected machine Saturday, when Ohio State is met at Urbana in a game which will determine a western conference champion.

In only one department—kicking—can Illinois be said to have a decided advantage. The Buckeye eleven does not boast a field goal kicker of Ralph Fletcher's type, while the punters are not the equal of Hellstrom, if he regains the form shown early in the season.

Kicking Nearly Test Badgers
Kicking may be the factor to decide the issue in this all-important contest. Illinois nearly won from Wisconsin last Saturday thru Ralph Fletcher's field goal kicking, while Michigan gained a decided advantage over Chicago in the exchange of punts. There is nothing so discouraging in football as to have forty yards of hard earned ground taken away by punting ability of one man, whose kicks are well covered by the ends.

It is almost certain both elevens will resort to the aerial attack early in the contest. Neither possesses the offense to gain consistently by use of straight football, and the forward pass must be called into commission to keep the defense scattered properly. Ohio State defeated Wisconsin by executing two long passes and another long forward started Michigan's defeat.

Buckeye Team Well Balanced
Ohio is a well balanced team. It has weight and power to the line and a better than average backfield. The ends match up with any two of the same eleven in the Big Ten, but Robert Fletcher is a more experienced general than Workman, the Buckeye quarter, and Illinois will have an advantage in this position.

Capt. Huffman, Ohio tackle, is one of the best men in the conference in his position. He plays the game from start to finish, and is a tireless worker. In the Michigan game he scored his team's second touchdown by blocking Stokely's punt and then falling on the oval behind the Wolfing goal. He recovered several fumbles and generally did his part in opening up holes. He will be superior to any player Coach Zuppke expects to play in his line.

Spies Also Good Tackle
Spies, the other tackle, did not play against Michigan because of an injured shoulder. His work last year and in Ohio's early games this season indicates he is playing in better form, and is an ideal running mate for the captain. In the absence of Spies, Coach Wiley moved Trotter, a guard, out to tackle. With the regular tackle back in the game, Trotter will play guard Saturday and can be relied upon to take care of the position.

F. Taylor, the other guard, is one of the most aggressive forwards in the conference. What this player lacks in experience he more than makes up for by his ability to get

ANTOCRATIC RULE OF NEW YORK A.C. IS BROKEN

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK.—(United Press.)—Autocratic domination of amateur athletics in the United States by the New York Athletic Club and a group of conservatives is an end.

Paying heed to the demands of the "soviet of athletics" formed last summer in Antwerp before the Olympic games, the Amateur Athletic Union, has decided upon a change of faces and policies among the governors of athletics.

The insurgent "ticket" headed by Robert S. Weaver, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, was elected in its entirety over the wishes of the New York dictators. Justice Karlow S. Weeks, an office holder in the union for years, went out of office with the rest of the "old guard."

In addition a committee of William C. Prout, Jeremiah Mahoney and Charles B. Lynch was appointed to investigate the charges made by the Olympic athletes against the committee in charge of the American team in Antwerp.

This committee also will seek to learn the method employed by the committee in picking the American team.

CHARGES ARE MADE
Charges made by the rifle and pistol team and the basketball team had to pay their expenses out of their pockets, also funds had come from other sources, also will be investigated.

It is known that the midshipmen of the victorious navy crew had to pay their living expenses and their own quarters after they arrived in Brussels.

Boxers and wrestlers from the into plays, offensively and defensively. His only fault is a desire to leave his position too quickly. Unless this error is corrected, Illinois will make gains thru him on the split buck formation.

Nemecsek a Dependable Center
Like tackles, there are a number of good centers in the west this year, and Nemecsek of Ohio State is one of them. This player is of the steady, consistent type, whose upmost thought always is to pass the ball accurately and then take care of his opponents. Ohio employs a complex offense, which calls for accurate passing, and Nemecsek performs this important duty in a pleasing manner.

With more experience, Workman should develop into one of the best quarter backs in the west. He is a great forward passer, and can hurl the ball forty yards with accuracy. In making these passes he runs back toward his own goal, because the more delay in turning the ball loose the better chance the receivers have of getting down the field. He is also fast and clever at running with the ball, but needs experience in directing a team's attack.

TOONERVILLE CAR IS COMING

Fontaine Fox Stories to be Told on Screen in Lima

SKIPPER, KATRINKA, BANGS

All the Famous Comedy Characters—Theatre Directory

"THAT Toonerville Trolley," which meets all trains, is the basis of a series of new comedies being put out by the Bettwood film Co. Fontaine Fox, the famous cartoonist whose drawings are so widely known, himself supervised the making of the pictures. Characters in the "Toonerville Trolley" series are extraordinary. First we have Dan Mason, the "skipper" of the trolley, who has had eyesight and all that, but who can still kick out the Powerful Katrinka, who walked away with a part of the track, thus delaying traffic for a while; the terrible tempered Mr. Bangs who has a brain-storm or two, and others of less importance. It is said that "The Toonerville Trolley" completely fills the demand for new ideas in comedies. People are getting tired of the pie-throwing, dish-breaking type of funny films, and who can blame them? An exact replica of the trolley so prominent in L. H. Fox's cartoon was built, perhaps a little more ramshackle, and it was necessary to build a complete trolley line, one that no engineer would ever pass on. Nothing funny about a delayed trolley car. Oh, but wait for the first of the series of this "Toonerville" comedies. You're going to have the best time of your life watching the funniest street car service in the world, and the most humorous conductor ever invented. The first of the comedies is scheduled to appear in Lima within a short time.

INFERIOR CATTLE HIT MARKET

Demoralized by Poor Stock, U. S.
Agent Says

APPEALS TO THE FARMERS

Asks Growers to Stem Tide in Rush to Sell

CHICAGO—(By United Press)—Half fed, inferior grade cattle, being rushed to the Chicago stock yards from all parts of the country by panic-stricken farmers, are causing demoralization of the cattle market, according to Albert Baker, head of the United States bureau of markets here Wednesday.

Baker appealed to farmers to stem the tide.

Farmers, Baker said, have become panicky because of timidity over future live stock prices and are unloading under-weight stock on the market which has caused wide breaks in price.

It was estimated that there was close to 65,000 cattle in the stockyards at the opening Wednesday. This is the largest number in two years.

Cattle prices broke and stock sold for 11 lower Tuesday and the previous day's close and from $2.50 to $3 cheaper than two weeks ago. Prices Tuesday ranged from $7.50 to $12.50 with the prospect Wednesday that prices would be cheaper.

Cattle prices are cheaper now than any time since 1916.

"Farmers are cutting their own throats by sending under-weight cattle to slaughter," Baker said Wednesday. "It stands to reason that well-fed cattle will bring better prices than the inferior grade now being sold. Feed is much cheaper and there is no reason why farmers should not hold their stock until they are more mature."

Baker said the grade of cattle being dealt in was poorer than at any time for several years.

Demoralization of the cattle market has had little effect on the hog market, according to Baker. Porkers sold from 25 to 45 cents lower Tuesday. Baker expects further declines in hogs, but predicted the downward movement would be gradual.

RESPONSE IS GOOD

Red Cross Workers Report Big
Enrollment in Lima

Over two hundred Red Cross workers canvassing Lima homes are reporting to headquarters in the Norval Hotel that hundreds of housewives are answering the annual roll call.

The campaign will keep up for several weeks and it is the hope of Red Cross officials that every person in Lima will have a chance to enroll before the time expires.

Ten women were busy Wednesday canvassing merchants and professional men in the business district, and reports received from them indicate that the men are being enrolled fast.

Posters have begun to appear in homes in all parts of the city, indicating where new members reside. Small Red Cross pins are given to individual members.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Association of Railway Executives has issued a statement in which it is estimated that 31.3 per cent of all cars on United States railroads were loaded on their own lines on Nov. 1. This was an increase of 30.000 cars over Oct. 1 and is in contrast with a percentage of only 21.3 per cent on March 1 last.

A total of 30,117 cars were handled by the Atchafalaya, Toiyah and Santa Fe railroads during the past week compared with 22,913 during the same period last year. This is a decrease of 3,796 cars.

The annual meeting of the American Railway association will be held in Chicago today. Reports of various committees will show the progress being made since the roads were returned to private ownership and reconstruction of operation and future procedure. Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, will be the principal speaker at a dinner tonight by the signal division of the association.

TURKEY 65 CENTS IN LIMA NOW

They Will Come High for Thanksgiving—Chickens Cheaper

Despite rumors of the decrease in high prices, that Thanksgiving turkey, Mr. Consumer, will cost you practically the same price it did one year ago.

Quotations reaching Lima Wednesday from the Chicago poultry market indicate turkeys will retail here at 65 cents a pound next week.

With Thanksgiving only a week off, Lima market men are preparing for a heavy demand in the poultry line.

Chickens will be less expensive than turkey. They will retail from 40 to 45 cents. Ducks will sell for 50 cents and geese will bring 45 and 50, dealers said.

"Thanksgiving is still a week distant," one dealer said, "and these prices may vary a cent or two within the next few days."

Cranberries, and all the "fixins" accompanying the usual stereotyped Thanksgiving dinner, for the most part, will retail at practically the same price of a year ago.

SNOW IS HAULED FROM STREETS

First Blizzard of Winter Appears
At End Wednesday

With rising temperature and the end of the small blizzard which swept Allen-co Tuesday seemingly at an end persons here breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday.

More snow is promised by the weatherman for Wednesday night, but he predicts that Thursday will be a clear day with a possibility of a rise in temperature.

Streets Wednesday were covered with a blanket of melting snow and sidewalks were sloppy.

Glyde Zertman, street superintendent, took the situation in hand and by noon Wednesday practically all sidewalks were cleared of drifted snow.

Early in the morning he had 10 teams and 20 men at work clearing the sidewalks. By noon this number had been increased and the situation was well in hand.

NEW YORK — Assurance of leading banking interests that the domestic financial situation is fundamentally sound and another brisk advance in British exchange stimulated a moderate demand for stocks at the opening of Wednesday's session. Investment rails scored the most substantial gains, Northern Pacific rising 1 1/4 points and Southern Pacific a large fraction. Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive, General Electric, Crucible Steel and American Sugar comprised the other firm to strong issues. Rubber and copper shares were again inclined, however, to reflect adverse conditions in their respective industries.

Gains were cancelled when shorts began a series of drives against Crucible Steel, and various specialties. Crucible was attacked on rumors of an indefinite postponement of the long deferred stock dividend, rubbers became heavier, Ajax and Coca Cola were under pressure of the sort that accompanied the recent suspension of dividends.

Rails, industrials and oils fell back 1 to 2 points but rallied variably before noon. Call money opened at 8 percent and exchange on London added to its early advance here today.

Prices broke sharply at mid-day further liquidation and short selling effecting severe declines in special stocks. The break soon embraced industrials and rails, some of which fell under recent low records.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Al Calacob, the optometrist, had an unusual experience the other day. An old man was applying for glasses, and Al was making a test of his eyes.

A card was fixed on the wall a little distance from where he was sitting, and Calacob asked him: "Can you read that?" "No, sir," said the old man, "I can't." He was told to move closer. "Well, can you read that now?" Again the old man replied, "No, sir." He was moved up until his face was almost against the card, but still he maintained he could not read it.

In desperation, Calacob said that there must be something wrong. "Well," replied the patient, "you see I never learned to read."

A doctor in the new Citizens building tells a good one. A negro with an injured head entered his office. "Hello, Sam! Got cut again, I see," the doctor said.

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. A MAN OF RENOWN

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines, was Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line. His work, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is now in over two and a half million homes in this country and Europe. At one time Doctor Pierce represented his home district in Congress.

Just one year ago he gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equalled for the weakness of women. Many women in every hamlet, town or city will gladly testify that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription did them a world of good.

Another of this great physician's successful remedies is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and, like the "Prescription," is now sold by all druggists, in both liquid and tablet form. This is probably one of the most efficacious discoveries ever made in medicine for the list of men and women all over the universe who have successfully used it for indigestion and as a blood tonic and system builder, makes an amazing total of thousands. "Pleasant Pellets" for stomach, liver and bowels, introduced by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago, are recommended by thousands all over the United States and Canada.

A new edition of the "Medical Adviser," over 1,000 pages, bound in handsome cloth, can be obtained by sending one dollar (or one-cent postage stamps) to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
